

Biography:

Ben Gibson arrived on the techno scene in 2006 with the deep and furious futurism of 'No Signify' on Axis sub-label 6277, a genuine underground classic of the 00's. After relocating to Tokyo from his adopted home of New Zealand he developed a reputation as a producer with a tough and complex sound.

Relocating to London in 2010 Ben continued to refine his sound, developing an altogether more seductive and reduced sound with releases on respected labels M_REC LTD, Sect, Chronicle, and Tsunami.

In 2014, Ben launched the label DYAD with Fundamental Interaction as a platform for both their collaborative and individual work.

2017 saw Ben venture into new territory with his album 'Episode Zero' on Chronicle.
